a greeting

Dear Mr Horwood,

formal introduction starter

I am writing to complain about the after-school clubs listed on the school's website. In my opinion, there are not enough after-school clubs for all of the children in the school.

introduction

In the past, all pupils have been able to find a club that they are happy to go to after school. Now, it is becoming harder to join because the clubs you do have are always busy. For example, I tried to sign up for both the healthy cooking club and the flag football club but both were full.

conclusion

I believe there are a number of things that you can do to create more after-school clubs for the school. First, tell the teachers that they will have extra time to prepare for any clubs they run. If they were going to be given some extra time, I'm sure many teachers would try to have a fun club in their class. In addition, ask the teaching assistants in the school if they would like to run a club as well. I know most of them don't work after school but it would not hurt to ask.

a formal signoff

After that, you could send a letter to all school parents and ask them if they would like to run a club too. I know a few kind school mums who are very crafty at home, work at the village preschool and could teach an arts and crafts club very well. I also know a few fathers who work on computers from home or they play cricket on the weekend. They could run a computer club or cricket club once a week. These two clubs would be great to have in school.

In conclusion, I hope you take my ideas seriously and I look forward to hearing from you.
