

Chinese New Year

When is Chinese New Year?

Chinese New Year changes every year because it follows an old calendar which is linked to the phases of the moon but it is always in January or February.

How long is Chinese New Year?

Chinese New Year normally lasts for 16 days. It starts on Chinese New Year's Eve until the Lantern Festival.

The Great Race is about how the Jade Emperor chose the order of the animals in the Chinese Zodiac.

Chinese New Year 2023 is the year of the Rabbit.

Each year is represented by a different animal from the Chinese zodiac story.
